To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to respectfully request leniency and consideration regarding the late filing of Form 5500 related to Morgen Industries.

For more than 25 years, I have operated my business responsibly and in full compliance with all filing and reporting requirements. As reflected in prior years, all required forms were consistently filed on time. The missed filing was an unintentional oversight that occurred during an extraordinary and prolonged period of hardship, not a willful disregard of my obligations.

Morgen Industries was severely impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. My business depended heavily on in-office operations within the New York and New Jersey data center market, which changed dramatically and rapidly during that time. Like many, I initially believed the disruption would be temporary. Despite sincere efforts to pivot into other industries, my ability to do so was significantly limited by family responsibilities.

During this period, I was the primary caregiver for my children, including one child with significant challenges that required frequent school interruptions, early pickups, and constant supervision. Daycare providers and babysitters were unable to support his needs, which made consistent work extremely difficult. At the same time, my marriage deteriorated under the strain, ultimately resulting in divorce.

Financially, these events were devastating. I exhausted my 401(k) and SEP/IRA funds to support my family and maintain our home, as my former partner was unwilling to sell the property or contribute meaningfully to household overhead. I also incurred substantial debt related to the closure of my company and ongoing family obligations.

These personal and financial crises significantly impaired my ability to manage administrative matters, including oversight of payroll services and Form 5500 filings. While I acknowledge that the missed filing was my responsibility, it occurred under circumstances that were extreme, prolonged, and beyond my reasonable control.

At present, my financial condition is extremely fragile. My net financial statement is effectively zero, and I am only now beginning to work again and rebuild my livelihood. I do not have the ability to absorb additional penalties or debt without severe hardship.

Given my long history as a compliant business owner, the unprecedented nature of the circumstances I faced, and my current financial condition, I respectfully request leniency and consideration for penalty abatement.

Thank you for your time, understanding, and consideration. I am committed to full compliance going forward and appreciate any relief that may be granted.

Sincerely,
Stuart Morgen
