Independent Auditor's Report

To the ERISA Management Committee and Plan Administrator
The New York Times Savings Plan
New York, New York

Scope and Nature of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) Audit

We have performed audits of the financial statements of The New York Times Savings Plan (the Plan), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C). The financial statements comprise the statements of net assets available for benefits as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, and the related statement of changes in net assets available for benefits for the year ended December 31, 2025, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management, having determined it is permissible in the circumstances, has elected to have the audits of the Plan's financial statements performed in accordance with ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) pursuant to 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's (DOL) Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA (ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit). As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audits need not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan (investment information) by a bank or similar institution or insurance carrier that is regulated, supervised, and subject to periodic examination by a state or federal agency (qualified institution), provided that the investment information is prepared and certified to by the qualified institution in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5 of the DOL's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA.

Management has obtained certification from a qualified institution as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, and for the year ended December 31, 2025, stating that the certified investment information, as described in Note 4 to the financial statements, is complete and accurate.

Opinion

In our opinion, based on our audits and the procedures performed as described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report:

- The amounts and disclosures in the accompanying financial statements, other than those agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP).
- The certified investment information in the accompanying financial statements agrees to, or is derived from, in all material respects, the information prepared and certified by a qualified institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Plan and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with GAAP, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error. Management's election of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit does not affect management's responsibility for the financial statements.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Plan's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Management is responsible for maintaining a current plan instrument, including all plan amendments. Management is also responsible for administering the Plan and determining that the Plan's transactions that are presented and disclosed in the financial statements are in conformity with the Plan's provisions, including maintaining sufficient records with respect to each of the participants, to determine the benefits due or which may become due to such participants.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Except as described in the Scope and Nature of the ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) Audit section of our report, our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if, there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Plan's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

Our audits did not extend to the certified investment information, except for obtaining and reading the certification, comparing the certified investment information with the related information presented and disclosed in the financial statements, and reading the disclosures relating to the certified investment information to assess whether they are in accordance with the presentation and disclosure requirements of GAAP.

Accordingly, the objective of an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit is not to express an opinion about whether the financial statements as a whole are presented fairly, in all material respects, in accordance with GAAP.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

Other Matter – Supplemental Schedule Required by ERISA

The ERISA-required supplemental schedule, Schedule H, Line 4i - Schedule of Assets (Held at End of Year) as of December 31, 2025, is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements but is supplementary information required by the DOL's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements. The information included in the supplemental schedule, other than that agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, has been subjected to auditing procedures applied in the audits of the financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statements or to the financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with GAAS. For information included in the supplemental schedule that agreed to or is derived from the certified investment information, we compared such information to the related certified investment information.

In forming our opinion on the supplemental schedule, we evaluated whether the supplemental schedule, other than the information agreed to or derived from the certified investment information, including its form and content, is presented in conformity with the DOL's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA.

In our opinion:

- The form and content of the supplemental schedule, other than the information in the supplemental schedule that agreed to or is derived from the certified investment information, is presented, in all material respects, in conformity with the DOL's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under ERISA.
- The certified investment information in the supplemental schedule agrees to, or is derived from, in all material respects, the information prepared and certified by a qualified institution that management determined meets the requirements of ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C).

The New York Times Savings Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

1. Description of the Plan

The following description of The New York Times Savings Plan (the Plan) is provided for general information purposes only. Participants should refer to the Plan document for a complete description of the Plan's provisions.

General

The Plan was adopted effective February 1, 1995. The Plan is a defined contribution plan for the benefit of certain eligible employees, as defined in the Plan document, of The New York Times Company (the Company or Employer). The Plan is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as amended. The authority to manage, control, and interpret the Plan is vested in the ERISA Management Committee (the Committee) of the Company. Vanguard Fiduciary Trust Company (the Trustee or Vanguard) serves as the Trustee of the Plan.

The Committee appoints the Plan administrator (the Plan Administrator). The "named fiduciary" within the meaning of ERISA comprises the Committee, the Plan Administrator, and the Pension Investment Committee. The authority to manage the investment of the Plan assets is vested in the Pension Investment Committee of the Company.

Eligibility

Eligible employees include those employees covered by a collective bargaining agreement with the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, District 15 (IAMAW Employees), employees covered by collective bargaining agreements with the Craft Unions listed in an Appendix to the Plan document, employees covered by a collective bargaining agreement with the Newspaper Guild of New York (Guild employees) and, Guild employees who previously had been eligible to participate in The New York Times Companies Supplemental Retirement and Investment Plan for at least a five-year period and who elected Excluded Guild benefits (Excluded Guild Employees), and former employees of Fake Love LLC.

All eligible employees, other than Excluded Guild Employees, who are scheduled to work at least 27 hours per week, are eligible to participate in the Plan on the first day of the month following their date of hire. All other employees, other than Excluded Guild Employees, must complete one year of eligibility service to become a Plan participant. Eligible employees who are hired on or after November 1, 2017 and are classified as casual, part-time, temporary, or an intern must complete one year of eligibility service to participate. One year of eligibility service is 1,000 hours of service during the first 12-consecutive-month period beginning on the date an employee first performs an hour of service, or, if an employee did not complete 1,000 hours of service during that period, the first Plan year during which a total of at least 1,000 hours of service are completed. Excluded Guild Employees are eligible to participate in the Plan upon becoming covered by a collective bargaining agreement with the Newspaper Guild of New York provided the Excluded Guild Employee had been eligible to participate in The New York Times Companies Supplemental Retirement and Investment Plan for at least a five-year period and elected the Excluded Guild benefits. Certain changes in the status of an employee may make him or her ineligible to become, or continue as, a participant.

Effective January 1, 2024, employees classified as casual, part-time, temporary, or interns who have completed 500 hours of service during each of the immediate three consecutive years are eligible to participate in the Plan. Effective January 1, 2025, in accordance with the Setting Every

Notes to Financial Statements

Community Up for Retirement Enhancement 2.0 Act of 2022 (SECURE 2.0), such employees who have completed 500 hours of service during each of the immediate two consecutive years are eligible.

Participant Contributions

A participant may elect to contribute through payroll deductions, subject to certain limitations, from 1% to 20% (in increments of 1%) of his or her eligible earnings, as defined in the Plan document (or, if the participant is highly compensated, from 1% to 15% of his or her eligible earnings). Participants shall designate his or her contributions as basic and/or additional contributions. Basic and additional contributions may be made on a Before-Tax, After-Tax, or Roth basis, provided, however, IAMAW Employees may not make contributions on an After-Tax basis. The first 6% of a participant's earnings are basic contributions and are eligible for employer matching contributions (collectively, Basic Contributions). Any Before-Tax, After-Tax, or Roth Contributions in excess of 6% of a participant's earnings are additional contributions and are not eligible for any employer matching contributions (collectively, Additional Contributions). Internal Revenue Service (IRS) limitations for 2025 were $23,500 for employee elective deferrals and $7,500 for catch-up contributions for those age 50 and over.

Effective January 1, 2025, the Plan increased the catch-up contribution limit for participants ages 60 through 63 to the greater of $10,000 (as adjusted for inflation) or 150% of the standard catch-up contribution limit in accordance with the SECURE 2.0.

Participants who have attained age 50 are permitted to make catch-up contributions on a Before-Tax or Roth basis in an amount specified by the IRS. Participants may also roll over amounts distributed from other eligible retirement plans, as defined by the Plan (Rollover Contributions).

Employer Contributions

The Company makes matching contributions on behalf of each participant to the participant's Basic Contributions for each Plan year (Employer Matching Contributions), as described below:

Participants Other Than Excluded Guild Employees and IAMAW Employees

For each Plan year, the amount of Employer Matching Contributions for each participant is equal to 25% of the participant's Basic Contributions. The Company contributes an additional amount of Employer Matching Contributions (Additional Employer Matching Contribution) for each Plan year for each participant equal to the following applicable additional matching percentage of the participant's Basic Contributions. This additional percentage is based on the respective percentage increase, if any, in the "average annual closing stock price" of The New York Times Company Class A common stock for the Plan year for which the contribution is being made over such price for the preceding Plan year:

Percentage Increase in Average Annual Closing Stock Price	Additional Employer Matching Contribution
Less than 2%	No additional matching contributions
2% or greater, but less than 5%	7% additional matching contributions
5% or greater, but less than 15%	14% additional matching contributions
15% or more	25% additional matching contributions

The New York Times Savings Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

The “average daily closing stock price” for each Plan year is calculated by dividing the sum of closing stock prices as reported in the consolidated transactions of the New York Stock Exchange of each active trading day in the Plan year by the number of active trading days in the Plan year. There was $1,576,918 in Additional Employer Matching Contributions for the Plan year ended December 31, 2025. The maximum amount of Employer Matching Contributions (including Additional Employer Matching Contributions) for each Plan year for each participant is 50% of the participant’s Basic Contributions for the Plan year.

Excluded Guild Employees

For each Plan year, the amount of Employer Matching Contributions for each participant who is an Excluded Guild Employee is equal to 50% of the participant’s Basic Contributions.

IAMAW Employees

For each Plan year, the amount of Employer Matching Contributions for each participant who is an IAMAW Employee is equal to 25% of the participant’s basic Before-Tax and Roth Contributions. Effective July 26, 2015, eligible IAMAW Employees who are journeymen or foreman receive, each payroll period, a 4% non-elective contribution on their average scale applicable to their job classification (Employer Non-Elective Contribution). The Employer Non-Elective Contribution totaled $50,000 for the Plan year ended December 31, 2025.

Employer Matching Contributions totaled $3,015,765 for the Plan year ended December 31, 2025.

New York Newspaper Printing Pressmen’s Union

The Company also makes additional annual non-elective contributions for employees covered by a collective bargaining agreement with the New York Newspaper Printing Pressmen’s Union (Pressman Annual Employer Contributions). The Pressmen Annual Employer Contributions will be made on behalf of specified participants who complete one year of service and are employed on the last day of the Plan year for the 2021 through 2025 Plan years. There was $234,000 in Pressmen Annual Employer Contributions for the Plan year ended December 31, 2025.

Participant Accounts

An individual account is maintained for each Plan participant. Each participant’s account is credited with the Basic Contributions, Employer Matching Contributions, and, if applicable, Additional Employer Matching Contributions, Employer Non-Elective Contributions, and Pressmen Annual Employer Contributions. Each participant’s account is also credited with Plan earnings and charged for Plan losses, based on the participant’s account balance. Certain administrative expenses may also be charged to a participant’s account, such as Trustee and recordkeeping fees, loan fees or fees for processing domestic relations orders. The benefit to which a participant is entitled is the benefit that can be provided from the participant’s vested account.

Participants direct the investments of their accounts into various investment options offered by the Plan.

The New York Times Savings Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

Vesting

Participants are fully vested in the value of their Basic Contributions, Additional Employer Matching Contributions, Pressmen Annual Employer Contributions, and Rollover Contributions. Participants become 40% vested in any of their Employer Matching Contributions and Employer Non-Elective Contributions upon the completion of one year of vesting service. The participant receives an additional 15% vesting credit upon the completion of each additional year of vesting service, as shown in the following schedule:

Years	Vesting (%)
Less than 1	-
1 but less than 2	40
2 but less than 3	55
3 but less than 4	70
4 but less than 5	85
5 or more	100

Nonvested Employer Matching Contributions and Employer Non-Elective Contributions that are forfeited are applied against future employer contributions.

Notes Receivable from Participants

The Trustee may make loans to participants pursuant to loan procedures adopted by the Committee. The loan will be funded from the participant's Plan investments on a proportionate basis, from Before-Tax Basic Contributions first, followed by Before-Tax Additional Contributions, vested Employer Non-Elective Contributions, vested Employer Matching Contributions, Rollover Contributions, After-Tax Basic Contributions, After-Tax Additional Contributions, and Roth Contributions. There are two types of loans available from the Plan: (i) a general-purpose loan available for any reason, and (ii) a residential loan available for the purchase or construction of the participant's principal residence. Only two loans may be outstanding to any one participant at a time. The minimum loan amount is $1,000. The maximum loan amount will be the lesser of: (i) 50% of the participant's vested account balance, or (ii) $50,000 minus the highest outstanding loan balance in the last 12 months. Loans are secured by up to 50% of a participant's account. The proceeds for the loan will be taken pro-rata from each of the investment funds in which the participant's account is invested.

The interest rate charged for a loan is one percentage point above the prime rate as received by Vanguard from Reuters on the first day of the month in which the loan is initiated. Interest rates on loans outstanding ranged from 4.25% to 9.50% for the 12 months ended December 31, 2025 and 2024.

Loan repayments are made through automatic payroll deductions, beginning as soon as possible after the loan check is mailed. General-purpose loans must be paid back within 60 months and the residential loans must be paid back within 15 years. There is no prepayment penalty. Outstanding loans will be declared due and payable upon termination of the participant's employment; however, terminated participants with an outstanding loan balance may elect to continue to repay their loans directly to Vanguard, provided they are not otherwise subject to the immediate cash-out requirement (account of $5,000 or less through May 31, 2024 or $7,000 or less from June 2024 onward).

The New York Times Savings Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

Payment of Benefits

On termination of service, or upon death, disability, or retirement at normal retirement age, a participant shall be entitled to a distribution equal to the vested value of his or her account. A participant, or designated beneficiary, shall receive a lump-sum payment of his or her account. A participant may instead elect monthly, quarterly, or annual installments over a period not to exceed the lesser of 20 years or a period equal to the participant's life expectancy (or joint and survivor life expectancy with the participant's designated beneficiary).

Prior to a participant's termination, retirement, disability, or death, the Plan allows the following partial or full withdrawals:

- Any participant who has attained age 59½ may withdraw the entire vested amount of his or her account.
- Any participant other than an IAMAW Employee may withdraw his or her After-Tax Basic Contributions and Additional Contributions first from After-Tax Additional Contributions made before January 1, 1987, then from After-Tax Basic Contributions made before January 1, 1987. If a participant other than an IAMAW Employee has no contributions made before January 1, 1987, After-Tax Basic Contributions and Additional Contributions made after January 1, 1987 may be withdrawn first from After-Tax Additional Contributions, then from After-Tax Basic Contributions. Withdrawals of After-Tax Basic Contributions may subject the participant to a six-month suspension. Withdrawals of After-Tax Basic Contributions and Additional Contributions made after January 1, 1987 include a percentage of earnings on those contributions.
- Any participant may apply for permission from the Plan Administrator to make a hardship withdrawal from his or her account of an amount equal to that necessary to meet an immediate substantial financial need of the participant not reasonably available from other resources. The Plan Administrator or its delegatee has the sole discretion to approve or disapprove hardship withdrawal requests, based on IRS regulations.

Effective February 27, 2025, the Plan implemented disaster relief provisions allowed for under the SECURE 2.0, allowing eligible participants affected by federally declared disasters to access certain retirement plan relief, such as penalty-free disaster distributions, favorable repayment and income-tax treatment, and possible loan or hardship relief, subject to the Plan's terms.

Account balances less than $1,000 will automatically be paid directly to the participant upon the participant's severance from employment, unless the participant elects a direct rollover, and account balances between $1,000 and $7,000 will be automatically rolled over to an Individual Retirement Account, unless the participant elects a cash distribution or direct rollover. Prior to June 2024, the $7,000 threshold was $5,000.

Administrative Expenses

Fees for Trustee and recordkeeping services are charged to participant accounts on a per-participant basis. Certain investment management fees are included in net appreciation in fair value of investments in the statement of changes in net assets available for benefits. Participants also pay administrative fees for elective investment advisory services, loans, and distribution related transactions, if applicable. Other expenses are paid by the Company and are excluded from these financial statements.

The New York Times Savings Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

Forfeited Accounts

Forfeited accounts include amounts from uncashed benefit payments and from nonvested Employer Matching Contributions and Employer Non-Elective Contributions. These amounts can be used to reduce future Employer Matching Contributions and Employer Non-Elective Contributions. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the balance in the forfeiture account, included in investments, at fair value in the statements of net assets available for benefits, totaled $21,390 and $6,303, respectively. During the year ended December 31, 2025, $65,594 forfeitures were used to offset Employer Matching Contributions.

Forfeited amounts from uncashed benefit payments are included as other additions in the statement of changes in net assets available for benefits. Forfeited amounts utilized to reissue checks are included as other deductions in the statement of changes in net assets available for benefits, where applicable.

2. Summary of Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting

The accompanying financial statements of the Plan are prepared under the accrual method of accounting.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP) requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Notes Receivable from Participants

Notes receivable from participants are measured at their unpaid principal balance plus any accrued but unpaid interest. Interest income on notes receivable from participants is recorded when earned. No allowance for loan losses has been recorded as of December 31, 2025 and 2024. If a participant ceases to make loan payments and the loan is deemed a distribution, based on the terms of the Plan document, the participant's loan balance is reduced, and a benefit payment is recorded. Related loan origination and loan maintenance fees are recorded as administrative expenses and are expensed when incurred.

Investment Valuation and Income Recognition

Investments are reported at fair value. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date (see Note 5). The Company's Pension Investment Committee determines the Plan's valuation policies utilizing information provided by its investment adviser and custodian.

Purchases and sales of investments are recorded on a trade-date basis. Dividends are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Interest is recorded as earned. Net appreciation in fair value of investments includes the Plan's gains and losses on investments bought and sold as well as held during the year.

The New York Times Savings Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

Contributions

Participant contributions are recorded in the Plan year in which the contributions are withheld. Employer Matching Contributions and Employer Non-Elective Contributions are recorded in the Plan year in which the underlying participant contributions are withheld. Additional Employer Matching Contributions and Pressman Annual Employer Contributions, when determined, are recorded during the Plan year it was earned. Amounts payable to participants for contributions in excess of statutory limitations on annual additions to participants' accounts are recorded as a liability with a corresponding reduction to contributions.

Payment of Benefits

Benefit payments to participants are recorded when paid.

Recently Issued but Not Yet Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

Accounting standards that have been issued or proposed by the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) or other standard-setting bodies are not expected to have a material impact on the Plan's financial statements.

3. Risks and Uncertainties

The Plan holds various investments that may expose it to concentration risk. The Plan provides for various investment securities, which include investments in any combination of registered investment companies and common/collective trusts. Investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market, and credit risk. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investments and the level of uncertainty related to changes in the value of investment securities, it is possible that changes in risks in the near term could materially affect participants' account balances and the amounts reported in the Plan's financial statements. The Plan's exposure to a concentration of credit risk is limited by the diversification of investments across various participant-directed fund elections. Additionally, the investments within each participant-directed fund election are further diversified into varied financial instruments.

4. Information Certified by the Plan's Trustee

The following information disclosed in the accompanying financial statements and ERISA-required supplemental schedule was obtained by management and agreed to or derived from information certified as complete and accurate by Vanguard, a qualified institution:

- Investments and notes receivable from participants held as of December 31, 2025 and 2024.
- Net appreciation in fair value of investments, interest and dividend income, and interest income on notes receivable from participants for the year ended December 31, 2025.

5. Fair Value Measurements

The framework for measuring fair value provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3).

The New York Times Savings Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under FASB Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 820, Fair Value Measurement, are described as follows:

Level 1 - Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the Plan has the ability to access.

Level 2 - Inputs to the valuation methodology include:

- Quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets.
- Quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets.
- Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability.
- Inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.

If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual) term, the Level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

Level 3 - Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

The asset's or liability's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

The following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at December 31, 2025 and 2024.

Registered Investment Companies - The shares of registered investment companies are valued at quoted market prices in an exchange and active market, which represent the net asset value (NAV) of shares held by the Plan at year-end.

Common/Collective Trusts - The fair value of investments in common/collective trusts is valued at NAV, as a practical expedient, as reported by the sponsoring financial institution. The NAV is determined by reference to the value of the underlying assets owned by the common/collective trust, minus its liabilities, and then divided by the number of units outstanding. The Plan's common/collective trusts consist of the Vanguard Institutional Market Index Trusts, Vanguard Retirement Savings Trust III, Vanguard Target Retirement Trust I Series, T. Rowe Price Blue Chip Growth Trust, the Small Mid Capital Growth CIT (Loomis Sayles & Company), Alliance Bernstein U.S. Small and Mid-Cap Value CIT (Great Gray Trust Company, LLC), and DWS RREEF Real Assets CIT (Deutsche Fund), all of which are direct filing entities (DFEs). There are no redemption restrictions on these investments, and there were no unfunded commitments as of December 31, 2025.

The methods described above may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, although the Plan believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

The New York Times Savings Plan

Notes to Financial Statements

The following tables present, by level within the fair value hierarchy, the Plan's assets that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis as of December 31, 2025 and 2024. The Plan's assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement requires judgment and may affect the asset's placement within the fair value hierarchy levels.

Total Investments, at fair value				$ 684,339,641

* Certain investments that are measured at fair value using the NAV per share (or its equivalent) have not been classified in the fair value hierarchy. The fair value amounts presented on these tables are intended to permit reconciliation of the fair value hierarchy to the amounts presented in the statements of net assets available for benefits.

The Plan had no assets that were measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis during the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024.

6. Related-Party and Party-in-Interest Transactions

Certain Plan investments are shares of registered investment companies and common/collective trusts managed by an affiliate of the Trustee of the Plan and, therefore, these transactions qualify as party-in-interest transactions. Fees paid by the Plan for administrative services to the Trustee and its affiliates amounted to $394,138 for the year ended December 31, 2025.

In addition, participants who are active employees may borrow from their accounts and such loans qualify as party-in-interest transactions. As of December 31, 2025 and 2024, the Plan had $2,634,908 and $2,442,540, respectively, in notes receivable from participants.

All related-party and party-in-interest transactions noted above are deemed exempt from the prohibited transaction rules.

7. Tax Status

The IRS has determined and informed the Plan Administrator in a favorable determination letter dated September 20, 2017 that the Plan and related trust are designed in accordance with Section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC). Although the Plan has been amended since receiving the determination letter, the Plan Administrator and the Plan's tax counsel believe that the Plan is designed and being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC and, therefore, believe that the Plan is qualified, and the related trust is tax exempt.

On March 22, 2024, the IRS commenced a review of the Plan for the Plan year ended December 31, 2021. As of the date of this report, the IRS review had not been formally concluded.

GAAP requires Plan management to evaluate tax positions taken by the Plan and recognize a tax liability if the Plan has taken an uncertain position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by the IRS. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress, other than as noted above.

8. Plan Termination

Although it has not expressed any intention to do so, the Company has the right under the Plan to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of termination of the Plan or upon the complete discontinuance of contributions under the Plan, the value of each participant's interest, which includes the participant's contributions, Employer Matching Contributions, Employer Non-Elective Contributions, Additional Employer Matching Contributions, and Pressman Annual Employer Contributions, if any, will be fully vested. Each participant's interest will be distributed in accordance with the terms of the Plan.

9. Excess Allocations Payable

Amounts payable to participants for contributions in excess of amounts allowed by the IRS are recorded as a liability with a corresponding reduction to contributions. For the year ended December 31, 2025, there were no excess allocations. For the year ended December 31, 2024, there were $651,924 of excess allocations that were distributed to participants in April 2025. The excess allocations were returned to the participants to comply with the statutory limitations on annual additions to participants' accounts.

10. Subsequent Events

Effective January 1, 2026, the Plan complied with the provisions under SECURE 2.0, such that catch-up contributions for individuals whose compensation is in excess of defined thresholds must be made as Roth contributions.

Effective July 1, 2026, the Plan adopted automatic enrollment at a deferral rate of 3% for current and new employees who do not have an existing deferral election in place.

The Committee evaluated the accompanying financial statements for subsequent events through July 23, 2026, and transactions on the date these financial statements were available to be issued, and has determined that no other subsequent events have occurred that would affect the information presented in the accompanying financial statements or require additional disclosure.
