To the Administrative Committee of:

LEARNING MATTERS 401(K) PLAN

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, in planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Learning Matters 401(K) Plan (the "Plan"), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2025, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered Learning Matters 401(K) Plan's system of internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of issuing our report on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control.

We were engaged to perform an ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C) audit of those financial statements as permitted by 29 CFR 2520.103-8 of the Department of Labor's Rules and Regulations for Reporting and Disclosure under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. As permitted by ERISA Section 103(a)(3)(C), our audit did not extend to any statements or information related to assets held for investment of the Plan (investment information) by Empower Trust Company, LLC that prepared and certified the statements or information regarding assets so held in accordance with 29 CFR 2520.103-5. Our audit also did not include a consideration of internal control relating to the investment information.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraphs and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies and, therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that were not identified.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct, misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the Plan's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected, on a timely basis. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses.

A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charged with governance. We consider the following deficiencies in Learning Matters 401(K) Plan's internal control to be significant deficiencies:

Controls over auto enrollment

During the year a Plan amendment was approved allowing immediate participation for all contributions. The payroll system was not updated to reflect the amendment, so automatic enrollment and matching contributions did not begin in accordance with the new terms. Failure to follow the auto-enrollment provisions of the plan document is an operational error, which puts the plan at risk of losing its tax-exempt status if not corrected. In addition, participant accounts are understated. The amount of understatement is not material to the financial statements, but DOL thresholds for materiality are much lower for participant accounts – generally any shortage more than $1 requires correction. We recommend all newly eligible participants be auto enrolled on the Plan entry dates. Additionally, for participants who have not been enrolled timely, the errors should be corrected in accordance with the IRS Employee Plan Compliance Resolution System (EPCRS).

Calculation of employer matching contributions

During our audit procedures, we noted that the plan sponsor, Learning Matters Educational Group, incorrectly calculated the employer match for certain participants, causing those participants not to receive match for part of the plan year. The plan sponsor intends to correct these errors. We recommend the plan sponsor develop and execute policies and procedures to ensure the proper calculation of employer matching contributions and that these calculations be reviewed by someone other than the individual performing the calculation.

During our audit, we became aware of deficiencies in internal control other than significant deficiencies or material weaknesses, and the following other matters that are opportunities for strengthening internal controls and operating efficiency:

Documentation of the oversight process - minutes of regular meetings

During our audit, we noted that minutes are not kept of regular meetings regarding the Plan. The Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) defines numerous fiduciary duties trustees have in relation to the Plan. Among the fiduciary duties, trustees should hold timely, periodic meetings with minutes which document the activities of the fiduciary. The minutes should record that the trustees have regularly reviewed agreements with third party administrators and investment managers, compliance with 408(b)(2) service provider notices and also investment policies. In addition, reasons for changes in third party administrators, investment managers, and investment policies should be documented. The minutes should also record the trustees' review of the list of parties in interest and prohibited transactions; approval of benefit payments; employer contributions; and investment results. This important documentation establishes that the trustees are actively involved in managing the Plan for the benefit of the Plan's participants and their beneficiaries, which is part of their fiduciary responsibility.

Insufficient controls over timely remittance of employee contributions

During our audit, it was noted that sufficient controls are not in place to ensure participant contributions are remitted to the trust in a timely manner. Department of Labor (DOL) Regulation 2510.3-102 requires that participant contributions be remitted to the Plan on the earliest date on which they can be reasonably segregated from the company's general assets, but in no event later than the 15th business day following the end of the month in which amounts are contributed by employees or withheld from their wages. Failure to remit participant contributions to the Plan in a timely manner results in prohibited transactions which must be separately reported to the DOL and may result in lost earnings for the Plan and penalties to the Plan Sponsor. We recommend that the Plan Sponsor review the procedures involved in remittance of participant contributions to the Plan and institute the necessary controls to ensure participant contributions are remitted timely. A written remittance policy should be created and followed. We also recommend the Plan correct all untimely remittances.

Timely reconciliation of contributions

During our audit, we noted that the contributions per the payroll reports and the census did not agree with the total contributions per the administration report. We also noted that employee contributions recorded by the Company did not agree with the employee contributions per the plan trust statements and amounts remitted by the Plan Sponsor. Failure to reconcile these reports and statements may result in a material misstatement or omission in the Plan's financial statements and/or Form 5500 that would not be prevented, detected or corrected on a timely basis. We recommend that these amounts be reconciled on a periodic basis and that differences be investigated by management.

We will review the status of these comments during our next audit engagement. We have already discussed many of these comments and suggestions with various Plan personnel, and we will be pleased to discuss them in further detail at your convenience.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management and Plan administration, and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than those specified parties.

Sincerely,

Mangperger Patterson & McMullin, PLC
