Report of Independent Auditor

To the Plan Administrator and Participants
New Era Employee Welfare Benefit Plan Trust
Houston, Texas

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of New Era Employee Welfare Benefit Plan Trust (the "Plan"), an employee benefit plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 ("ERISA"), which comprise the statements of net assets available for benefits and benefit obligations as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, and the related statements of changes in net assets available for benefits and benefit obligations for the year ended December 31, 2025, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the net assets available for benefits and benefit obligations of the Plan as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, and the changes in its net assets available for benefits and changes in its benefit obligations for the year ended December 31, 2025, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Plan and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Plan's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date the financial statements are available to be issued.

Management is also responsible for maintaining a current Plan instrument, including all Plan amendments; administering the Plan; and determining the Plan's transactions that are presented and disclosed in the financial statements are in conformity with the Plan's provisions, including maintaining sufficient records with respect to each of the participants, to determine the benefits due or which may become due to such participants.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and, therefore, is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Plan's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Plan's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audits, significant audit findings, and certain internal control related matters that we identified during the audits.

Note 1—Description of the Plan

The following description of the New Era Employee Welfare Benefit Plan Trust (the "Plan") provides only general information about the Plan's provisions. Participants should refer to the Plan Agreement for a more complete description of the Plan's provisions.

General – The Plan and the related trust (the "Trust") were established on June 1, 1990. The Plan is a contributory employee welfare defined benefit plan. It provides major medical and optional dental benefits to all full-time employees (with at least 60-calendar days of service), and to their beneficiaries and covered dependents, of New Era Life Insurance Company (the "Plan Sponsor"). The Plan is subject to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 ("ERISA").

Contributions and Liquidity – In addition to deductibles and copayments, participants contribute specified amounts based on applicable monthly premiums for their perspective benefit elections. The Plan Sponsor makes discretionary contributions on behalf of the participants and determines the amount of participants' contributions annually. Contribution amounts are reviewed on an annual basis and adjusted when necessary to provide for current and future benefit obligations and expenses, based upon historical claims and estimated cost trends. The Plan Sponsor currently intends to fund any Plan deficit, when necessary, although there is no such provision in the Plan Agreement.

Benefits – The Plan provides health benefits (medical, dental, and prescription drugs). The Plan also provides continuation of certain benefits upon termination of employment through the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act ("COBRA").

Stop Loss Coverage – The Plan has entered into a stop-loss insurance arrangement in an effort to limit exposure for self-insured benefits. Major medical benefits provided by the Plan are self-insured up to $200,000 per person. The reinsurance limit in excess of $200,000 is limited to a maximum of $5,000,000. Recoveries received for amounts exceeding the medical coverage self-insured limits under the stop-loss coverage are used to reduce claims paid on the statement of changes in net assets available for benefits.

Administration – The Plan's trustee, which is also the Plan Sponsor, holds and manages all contributions received into the Plan. The Plan Sponsor also administers the Plan by processing claims and making benefit payments to, or on behalf of, participants. Certain administrative functions are performed by officers or employees of the Plan Sponsor; however, none of these officers or employees receives compensation from the Plan.

Plan Expenses – Administrative expenses of the Plan are paid by the Plan.

Note 2—Summary of significant accounting policies

Basis of Accounting – The financial statements of the Plan are prepared under the accrual method of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP").

Estimates – The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires the Plan Sponsor to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results may differ from those estimates. Significant estimates include the methods used to calculate claims incurred but not reported.

Contributions – Contributions are recorded when the amounts are due from participants and the Plan Sponsor. Claim amounts recoverable under the stop-loss coverage are accrued as claims are processed for reimbursements.

Payment of Benefits – Claims are recorded as health claims payable in the accompanying statements of benefit obligations. All claims incurred are recorded to claims paid to or on behalf of participants once payments have been submitted to the participant or the service provider.

Benefit Obligations – Plan obligations at December 31, 2025 and 2024 for health claims incurred by active participants but not reported at that date and future health claims payable are estimated by the Plan Sponsor based on claims data. These amounts are paid by the Plan only if claims are submitted and approved for payment. Participants have up to 18 months from the date of service to file a claim for a given Plan year. Such estimated amounts are reported in the accompanying statements of benefit obligations.

Insurance Premiums – Premiums for stop-loss insurance are included in premium payments in the accompanying statement of changes in net assets available for benefits. Stop-loss refunds are netted against claims paid in the accompanying statement of changes in net assets available for benefits. Amounts recoverable under stop-loss coverage are used to reduce health claims payable in the statements of benefit obligations.

Administrative Expenses – The Plan pays expenses that consist primarily of administrative fees, accounting fees, and trustee fees. These expenses are reported on the statement of changes in net assets available for benefits as administrative expenses.

Income Tax – U.S. GAAP requires the Plan Sponsor to evaluate tax positions taken by the Plan and recognize a tax liability if the Plan has taken an uncertain position that more-likely-than-not would not be sustained upon examination by the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS"). The Plan Sponsor has analyzed the tax positions taken by the Plan and has concluded that as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, there were no uncertain tax positions taken or expected to be taken. The Plan is subject to routine audits by taxing jurisdictions; however, there are currently no audits for any tax periods in progress.

Recently Issued Accounting Principles – Plan management is not aware of any recently issued accounting pronouncements that would have a material impact on the Plan's financial statements.

Note 3—Plan termination

Although it has not expressed any intent to do so, the Plan Sponsor has the right under the Plan to modify the benefits provided to, and contributions required of, participants, or to discontinue its contributions at any time and to terminate the Plan subject to the provisions of ERISA. In the event of Plan termination, the net assets of the Plan will be allocated as prescribed by ERISA.

Note 4—Related party transactions

The Plan purchases major medical stop-loss insurance coverage from Philadelphia American Life Insurance Company ("PALIC"), a subsidiary of the Plan Sponsor, to cover claims between $200,000 and $5,000,000 per participant. The Plan paid major medical insurance premiums to PALIC in the amount of $511,451 during 2025. There were no premiums due to PALIC at December 31, 2025 or 2024.

The Plan had recoveries during the year ended December 31, 2025 amounting to $197,802. Recoveries from reinsurance offset claims paid to or on behalf of participants. Claims recoverable not yet received in the amount of $324,276 and $52,291 are used to reduce health claims payable in the statements of benefit obligations as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

The Plan paid $36,000 to the Plan Sponsor during the year ended December 31, 2025, for trustee fees related to the Plan Sponsor's administration of the Plan. Such fees are included in administrative expenses in the accompanying statement of changes in net assets available for benefits.

Note 5—Tax status

The Trust funding the Plan has received an exemption letter from the IRS dated January 27, 1995, stating that the Trust is tax exempt under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC") Section 501(c)(9) as a Voluntary Employee Beneficiary Association. The Plan and Trust are required to operate in accordance with the IRC to maintain the tax exempt status of the trust. The Plan administrator believes the Plan is being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the IRC and, therefore, believes the related trust is tax exempt.

Note 6—Risk and uncertainties

Financial instruments which potentially subject the Plan to concentrations of credit risk consist primarily of cash deposits held by one financial institution. The Plan's exposure to loss is the amount of cash deposits in excess of the federally insured limit. Cash deposits in excess of federally insured limits as of December 31, 2025 and 2024 were $-0- and $586,814, respectively.

The amount of benefit obligations related to claims incurred but not reported and future health claims payable are reported based on certain assumptions, including claims history and trends in healthcare costs, which are subject to change. Due to uncertainties inherent in the estimation and assumption process, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in these estimates and assumptions in the near term could be material to the financial statements.

Note 7—Fidelity bond

The Plan was covered by a $500,000 fidelity bond as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, and for the year ended December 31, 2025.

Note 8—Subsequent events

The Plan Sponsor has evaluated subsequent events through October 15, 2026, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued.
